The Value of A Pal.

A pal is in the Diamond, the Pearl and the Ruby class, FINE AND VALUABLE is a PAL.
The motion picture is a pal, is the greatest wonder of the world, the greatest educational power, because it brings to your very eyes, the things you could not otherwise afford to reach.
The motion picture is said to have by critics a bigger public than books and newspapers together, why? It is readily understood, vast, colossal stupendous, mighty. Recognized by the Government as the greatest advertising medium, and the greatest rest and recreation for the soldiers, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy".
In reproducing the great love stories written by our greatest writers has a most prominent place on the screen. It is the essential to determine the final result, be it good or bad, all classes high and low rich and poor view the picture and are affected by it consciously or unconsciously. The motion picture has come to stay. A Pal that if it rains is still your Pal. If it CYCLONES is still hovering around. It shall win all things worth while because the freedom and the frankness of the motion picture is recognized as an educational factor Par Excellence.
